

ELECTION RETURNS BY THE TIMES-DISPATCH

Thousands May See How Ballots Have Affected All the Candidates.

BOMBS TO TELL THE STORY

Telautograph Will Flash the News from All Points With Rapidity of Lightning.

Red, Bryan leads.
Blue, Taft leads.
White, in doubt.
Red and white, Bryan wins.
Blue and white, Taft wins.

Citizens of Richmond will get the news of the election, soon after the polls close on Tuesday night in the most interesting, unique and efficient manner that they have ever received returns. The Times-Dispatch is ready with its telautograph to announce the results as fast as the result is known anywhere in the United States, and ample arrangements have been made to accommodate the entire population of Richmond at the same time.

BOMBS TO TELL THE STORY

Great colored bombs will be sent high into the heavens from the top of The Times-Dispatch Building at 5, 10, 11, 12, 1 and 2 o'clock Tuesday night, and the thousands watching may know how the election is going by remembering the signals, as follows:

Red, Bryan leads.
Blue, Taft leads.
White, in doubt.
Red and white, Bryan wins.
Blue and white, Taft wins.

From an array of correspondents, numbering nearly 1,000, returns will be rushed to The Times-Dispatch from Virginia and North Carolina. Three special wires will carry the news of the election to this newspaper from New York and from all over the United States, and as it rushes into the office with the rapidity of the lightning it will be flashed on a great white canvas in Capitol Square from The Times-Dispatch's telautograph, located on the Bank Street side of The Times-Dispatch Building. Through a service constantly in action, and the rockets going up every hour, after the rush of news starts the public will have no trouble in keeping tab on the election since electricity can announce the result faster than millions of human beings can compile it.

How Results Will Be Shown

It may not be amiss to say a few words about this most wonderful invention, the telautograph. It is an electrical machine almost weird in its mysterious workings. Through a giant stereoscopic message is placed on the canvas as it leaves the wire. Should the spectators in Capitol Square extend from Bank Street to the Washington Monument, all may witness the great service, operated by an electric lever, tracing the message in the exact autograph of the sending operator. If Mr. Bryan is the victor his reply to Mr. Taft's congratulatory message will be flashed on the canvas, and spectators will read it as soon as Mr. Bryan does.

When the Fun Starts

The polls on election day will open in Richmond at 6:25 A. M. and close at sunset—two minutes before 5 o'clock. At 6:30 A. M. the first returns will be received from the precincts and get busy counting the ballots, and by 7 o'clock the local returns will begin to come in. At this hour the Richmond Light Infantry Blues' Band will take its place on a platform in Capitol Square beneath the windows of The Times-Dispatch Building and will entertain the occasion with airs suitable to the running of the candidates. From this hour till midnight, or until all the chief contests are decided by ballots, there will not be a moment's lull. These returns will be figures, unbiased by the political views of correspondents or candidates. When the polls are closed it will be too late to urge this man or that, this policy or the other. The election will be one of fact, and with these facts and figures to work on the energy and ability of the news-gathering force of the country, allied with the great news services and the marvelous electric achievements, will be brought home to the world with a world's popularity beholds the results, accurately and carefully told by the time that the clock strikes the hour of midnight.

With the figures of the last presidential election placed before them for comparison, the returns will be thrown on the canvas, and thousands, gathered in Capitol Square, will know at a glance whether Mr. Bryan has maintained his popularity in the Virginia and Carolinas, or whether the Republicans have made their much boasted gains about which there has been warm discussion in Richmond and other places in the South, where Democracy has been the Gibraltar of political parties for so long a time.

ETHEL FISHER DOING WELL

L. E. Atkins is hailed as the sum of $10,000, and Girl is Under Surveillance. L. E. Atkins, who is charged with the betrayal of Ethel Fisher, alias Clarke, was called in the Police Court yesterday morning, but the case was postponed to November 11th, the same date set for the trial of the young woman and for Mrs. Jennie Schloss, the latter of whom is charged with having attempted to give criminal treatment to the girl. Atkins was bailed in the sum of $10,000.

COUNCIL'S BUSY MONTH

Many Meetings on Calendar, But Few Scheduled for This Week.

So far the only meetings scheduled for the City Council and its committees are as follows: Monday, Common Council at 8 o'clock; Cemeteries and Water at 8 o'clock; Thursday, Grounds and Buildings at 8 o'clock; and Improvement of James River at the same hour. This will be the heaviest month of the year, although the calendar is covered with meetings for almost every working day.

COURT OF APPEALS

Term Opens in Richmond, With Important Cases on Calendar.

Judges Coff, Pittchard, Morris, Braxley and Pennell will open the United States Court of Appeals in Richmond on Thursday, November 11th. The opening of the court will be a notable event, and on account of the national election falling on that day.

For Lunch and supper, call at the Commercial and try their steaks.

No News by Telephone

Owing to the unprecedented business demand on the telephone service Tuesday night, The Times-Dispatch switchboard operators will be unable to answer questions concerning the election. It is on members of the staff for this information by telephone will simply delay the work of sending the returns to the screen in Capitol Square, and will not be answered. On ordinary nights the operators answer more than 1,000 calls. They expect Sunday morning news Tuesday night, although The Times-Dispatch will keep the entire city informed by its telautograph and bomb signals, sent high into the air.

PENNELL WOMAN GIVES HERSELF UP

Police Department Making Every Endeavor to Break Up Disorderly Houses.

Carrie Pennell, of No. 197 South Second Street, surrendered at the Second Police Station yesterday afternoon, after she had heard that there was a warrant out for her arrest, charging her with running a disorderly house. Her house had been under surveillance by plain clothes men for a week or more, and sufficient evidence, it is alleged, had been gained to arrest her. In some unaccountable way she got wind of the warrant, and before the hour set for the intended raid she surrendered. She was accompanied to the station by a prominent lawyer, who went as bondsman for the female. She was asked, he requested that the matter be kept quiet.

The warrant for the arrest of the Pennell woman follows the raid made last week by Policeman Wiley on the house of Madge Garrett, 214 South Second Street. The department is doing everything possible to break up these places, and the women will be prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law. In the present instance many witnesses of high standing will be called to testify.

GETS MORE MONEY

City Committee Receives Funds to Help Party's Cause.

The City Democratic Committee held a long session last night, though the business disposed of was in the main routine in its nature. Provision was made for the placing of the party's vehicles to be placed at the disposal of such of the ward superintendents as may need them on Tuesday in order to get out a full party vote. It was decided to assist in every possible way in making the meeting at Sanger Hall a success to-morrow night. The following additional contributions were reported by Dr. Charles V. Carrington, chairman of the Finance Committee:

John H. Ebert, $5; George T. Byrne, $5; William Childress, $1; James W. Veale, $1; D. G. Kuhn, $1; A. B. Goodman, $1; J. D. Burton, $1; J. H. Greener, $1; J. W. Woodward, $1; J. H. Greener, $1; John P. Raffo, $2.50; L. S. Jones, $2.50; W. H. Joyce, $2.50; Walter Christian, $20; J. D. Everhart, 25c; S. W. Holdcroft, $1; N. W. Atkinson, $5; Cash, $5; H. C. Boschen, $1. Total, $57.75.

Mr. Massie in the City.

Former Senator Bland Massie, of Nelson county, is at Murphy's, having stopped over here on his way home from Norfolk, where he attended a meeting of the State Fisheries Commission, of which he is a member. Mr. Massie was warmly greeted by many of his old friends in the city last night.

McKANA TO CURE HALLOWEEN BEATS MORE RUNNARDS

New Charity Class With 150 Members to Begin Treatment To-Morrow.

Thoroughly convinced that much good could be accomplished by sobering about forty confirmed drunkards, who were a burden upon the Associated Charities, Dr. J. J. McKanna consented yesterday to cure a class of more than 150, which will meet him at Charity headquarters on East Franklin Street to-morrow. McKanna, who is a former graduate of the McKanna Club, several days ago the president met Dr. McKanna as the former was returning from work.

"We'll get together a couple of hundred drunks, doctor," he said, "and your old class would appreciate it if you'd cure them, too."

"Send them to me," said Dr. McKanna. "I'm the only man who can do the work, and I'll do it gladly." The arrangements were completed. Dr. James Buchanan having agreed to turn over headquarters for class meetings. The recruits come from an element of respectable people, who are too poor to squander their wages in drink, but who lack the power of resistance when the jules come up with its inviting fragrance. They want to shake off the habit, and when the McKanna Club began the work of securing names they came in rapidly and expressed a general desire to reform themselves.

Dr. McKanna has invited the ministers and professional men to the class room during the course of treatment.

RAISE WARD'S BAIL

McMahon Telegraphs That Continuance Has Been Granted and Bond Doubled.

Major Warner received a telegram yesterday from Detective-Sergeant McMahon in New York, stating that he had secured a continuance of the case against Roy T. Ward, and that his bond had been increased from $500 to $1,000. Ward, the prisoner, has procured lawyers, who are suing for a writ of habeas corpus.

Ward is alleged to have ill-treated a young girl of this city during her week when he was here as a chauffeur for a

QUEENLY MAKES STRONG APPEAL

Earnestly Requests Voters to Turn Out Tuesday and Help Elect Bryan.

STATE LOOKS TO RICHMOND

Chairman of Local Democratic Committee Says All Citizens Should Vote.

Chairman James B. Doherty, of the City Democratic Committee, yesterday issued his usual ante-election appeal to the members of his party in the city to turn out on Tuesday and assist in every honorable way at their command in the election of the party nominees for President and Congress. The appeal follows:

On Tuesday next the people of the United States will be called upon to give expression to their choice for President. The issue of the campaign have been freely discussed, and the people have been informed as to the great public questions before them. The Republican party is strenuously endeavoring to make inroads upon the Democracy of the South, and special efforts have been directed at Richmond, the capital of an old Commonwealth whose devotion to the principles of Democracy has impressed itself upon the nation.

Some Questions Asked. Why should Richmond lessen her adherence to the time-honored principles of Democracy? Why should Richmond Democrats be persuaded to vote the Republican ticket? Shall a mess of political potage, coated in a pill of political patronage, be swallowed down by the people of this city? Shall any Democrat of Richmond?

The Democratic party has been loyal to Virginia for its capital city to give support to the enemies of Democracy. The cry of the Republican leaders, "Let the South go back into the Union," but intensifies Democracy's acclaim, "The South's love for the Union compels its adherence to the Democratic party."

This is no time to give aid or comfort to a party which has lived upon sectionalism, nurtured upon political animosities, and now seeks with increasing force to perpetuate its outworn political methods. The appeal to barter away the old sentiment of the South, hallowed and consecrated by our fathers, should fall unheeded upon the ears of the Democracy of Richmond.

All Looking to Richmond.

The Democracy of the entire State is looking to Richmond for a big Democratic majority in the coming election, and the party in Virginia if the old-time Democratic majority is not given in Richmond—the Gibraltar of Democracy.

Is any Democrat to be forgetful of the pledge made in the recent primary? That pledge could be and had assistance to defeat a party to which he has honestly affirmed allegiance, and which party now boldly stands for good government and for human rights?

Following the time-honored custom of our party, the Democratic Committee of Richmond, in the name of the election, appeals to every Democrat to give his vote and his most enthusiastic support to the nominees of the Democratic party. Great questions confront the American people, grave issues are involved, and appealing for the continuation of the principles enunciated by Jefferson, the founder of our party, I gladly obey the wishes of the City Democratic Committee and urge every Democrat in this city to vote.

Will any Democrat in Richmond violate a primary pledge (which is just as solemn and just as strong as a pledge could be) and lend assistance to defeat a party to which he has honestly affirmed allegiance, and which party now boldly stands for good government and for human rights?

Following the time-honored custom of our party, the Democratic Committee of Richmond, in the name of the election, appeals to every Democrat to give his vote and his most enthusiastic support to the nominees of the Democratic party. Great questions confront the American people, grave issues are involved, and appealing for the continuation of the principles enunciated by Jefferson, the founder of our party, I gladly obey the wishes of the City Democratic Committee and urge every Democrat in this city to vote.

Western Union Sues Bank.

In the Law and Equity Court yesterday the suit of J. E. Crutcher against the M. Kelly Horse and Mule Company for salary due was decided in favor of the plaintiff. Crutcher was awarded $88.50.

MR. BRENNAN EXPLAINS

Secretary of State Democratic Committee Tells How to Mark Ballots.

Mr. J. N. Brennan, secretary of the State Democratic committee, has written the following letter to President Tipton D. Jennings, of the Bryan-Kern-Glass Club of Lynchburg, which the latter has forwarded to the voters in marking their ballots on Tuesday:

"The voter must not mark through the names of the electors, but he should mark through the names of the candidates for President and the candidate for Vice-President at the head of the set of electors for whom he desires to vote. Under no circumstances should the names of the candidates for President and Vice-President be marked through the names of the electors."

"If the voter desires to vote the Democratic ticket he will mark through the names of the candidates for President and Vice-President at the head of the set of electors for whom he desires to vote. Under no circumstances should the names of the candidates for President and Vice-President be marked through the names of the electors."

"When the voter has completed the presidential ticket he must then look for the name of the candidate for Vice-President at the head of the set of electors for whom he desires to vote. Under no circumstances should the names of the candidates for President and Vice-President be marked through the names of the electors."

"The voter should examine the official ballot carefully and mark plainly."

SERVED THIRTY-SIX YEARS

Rev. J. B. Hudson to Celebrate Anniversary of His First Pastoral.

The thirty-sixth anniversary of the pastorate of the Rev. J. B. Hudson, of the Pine Street Baptist Church, will be observed on Monday, November 10th. On these occasions, he will review his work of the past year and the changes which have taken place since he first took charge of the flock. From a small church, in what was at that time a suburban section of the city, the congregation has grown to the present time the largest church of the Baptist denomination in the South. The pastorate of Hudson at Pine Street has been considerably longer than that of any other minister now serving in Richmond.

There will be special music by the choir both at the morning and night services.

Noted Hongkong Editor Favorably Impressed With Local Constabulary System.

MR. BRYAN SHOWS HIM ABOUT

Japan Is Throwing Cold Water on Chinese-American Trade Alliance, Says Li Sum Ling.

Li Sum Ling, the distinguished editor of the Hongkong Daily Mail, who is in Richmond in the interest of closer trade relations between the United States and China, and to study conditions in this country generally, said yesterday that he thought Chinese constabulary would do well to copy Richmond's constabulary service, including stations and regulations. He declared that prisoners were cared for in a satisfactory and respectable manner in Richmond, and that he would recommend the same system to his country.

Mr. Li was escorted to the Richmond Locomotive Works and to St. John's Church yesterday by Mr. Joseph Bryan. He showed great interest in both. He again showed his versatility by discussing in a most intelligent manner the work of the church and the importance of the locomotive plant.

Charmed With Virginians.

In speaking about the trip after his return to the Jefferson, Mr. Li said: "I am delighted at the reception I have received in Richmond."

"Before I left China I had heard that Americans were not only known as Americans, but also as Virginians, the name of the State being symbolic of the rare charm and hospitality that one always finds within its borders. Virginia will always hold a warm spot in my heart, and I shall remember always the pleasure I had on my ride this morning."

During the day Mr. Li read an Associated Press dispatch from Amoy saying that port had ignored the coming of the American battleship fleet. "I am amazed at the report," he said. "Since long before I left China the Chinese government had set aside the sum of $1,500,000 for the purpose of properly entertaining the officers and crews of the American warships when they should reach our shores. Prince Yu Ling, Minister Liang, of our foreign affairs department, and other high officials were appointed by the government to see that nothing was left undone by us as a nation to show our friendly feeling for the people of the United States."

Says Japan Is Jealous.

Mr. Li declared with much emotion that Japan had done everything in her power to annul the effect of the work that he was trying so hard to do in this country. He said that he believed that the dispatch from Amoy was sent to the Associated Press by some Japanese under cover. He had the highest regard for the Associated Press, and said, "I am not going to criticize it, if the news was incorrect, as he felt sure it was, the press had simply been imposed upon. He declared that Japan desired nothing more than to keep China in the background."

China Desires Friendship.

"The Japanese," he said, "appear to hope that some day they will be the masters of that great empire of which I am proud to be a humble citizen. They will never succeed in that ambition, however, for China is not only the stronger country, but also the more advanced. It is the superior of the island empire in every other respect. I know that every intelligent business man in the broad domains of China is in favor of closer relations with the United States, and I know that Japan is trying to do everything in her power to annul the effect of the work that he was trying so hard to do in this country. He said that he believed that the dispatch from Amoy was sent to the Associated Press by some Japanese under cover. He had the highest regard for the Associated Press, and said, "I am not going to criticize it, if the news was incorrect, as he felt sure it was, the press had simply been imposed upon. RIVER RIGHTS INVOLVED

Robert Hudgins, Charged With Trespassing On Edward Coward's Property, Appeals.

Robert Hudgins was charged in the Police Court yesterday morning with having trespassed upon the premises of Edward Coward in the Tring Shipyard basin, and was placed under security for six months. He was represented by Mr. David Meade.

The case involved the right of the rights of Mr. Coward, who some time ago leased the basin to conduct a repairing and boat-renting business. The decision was appealed.

GYMNASIUM FOR BAPTIST WOMEN

Richmond Women Meet This Week

First Meeting to Be Held at 217 West Grace Street on November 10.

Richmond is to have a modern gymnasium for women. Miss Emily Jones, registered nurse and gymnast, Miss Marie Leahy, professional physical culture teacher, and Miss Mary B. Baughman are the chief promoters of the institution, and Dr. Stuart McGuire and a number of other leading physicians and citizens are said to have given the promoters their warmest wishes for the success of the undertaking.

For the first year, starting on November 10th, the gymnasium will be at 217 West Grace Street.

The women's gymnasium has been organized on the basis of a college. It will have a board of women managers and an advisory board of men, and its by-laws and constitution will be drawn with a view of making the institution a permanent fixture in Richmond.

One of the latest scientific appliances will be installed, and a swimming pool will be arranged. It will be the effort of the promoters to make this gymnasium one of the pleasant as well as one of the prominent institutions for those most concerned.

Father Comes Here From Raleigh to Get Afflicted Daughter.

Mrs. Ethelyn Gaylord, who was acquitted on Friday of the charge of murdering "Baby Face" Smith, the infant of unknown parentage, in the City Home last July, was taken Friday night to her home in Raleigh, N. C., by her father, who spent Friday night in jail, having no other home. Previous to her trial she received a letter from her father stating that he was impossible for him to be present. His letter was in the form of a pathetic appeal for her to give up her earlier indications, and leave her father's home, and to her father in good spirit, determined, she said, to pass the rest of her days beneath her father's roof.

SCHOOLS IN GOOD SHAPE

Buildings All Full, But No Congestion Except at Highland Park.

The regular meeting of the several district school boards was held at the Hancock county courthouse yesterday morning. Teachers were paid off and other routine business transacted.

The schools were found to be in the most prosperous condition. There are more scholars enrolling for this season than ever before. Nearly all of the buildings are comfortably filled, but on account of the increased facilities there is no congestion at any place except Highland Park. The arrangements have been made to take care of the enrolment until next session, when the new building at Highland Park, recently begun, will be ready for occupancy.

Auto Road to Norfolk.

Captain P. St. Julien Wilson, State Highway Commissioner, has returned from Norfolk, where he attended a meeting of the Tidewater Automobile Association. He says the association is desirous of having a building a macadamized road from Richmond to Norfolk, and that an effort will be made to set such a project on foot.
